

Le'Yana Orpiano, B.S., QMHP-C

I graduated from Radford University in 2019 where I received my Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology with a minor in Sociology. I have been working in the mental health field for over 2 years as a Qualified Mental Health Professional for children and adolescents. I am currently working in individual and family services, focusing on person-centered treatments to assist adolescents in Intensive In-Home Services. I have a strong ambition for helping others who may be experiencing difficulties in life understand that positive relationships and outlooks on life are still very attainable. In my free time, I really enjoy traveling, eating, and capturing memories with my point 'n shoot film camera.
